Details of Prince Alfonso's Wedding
To Princess Beatrice Likely to Create Sensation.

GROOM STRIPPED OF HIS TITLES.

Because Bride is Protestant, Alfonso of Spain is Forced by Clerical Party to "Kick His Own Cousin Out of the Country"—Prince Would Go to Front in Morocco.

PARIS, July 23.—The details surrounding the romantic marriage of Prince Alfonso of Bourbon-Orleans, to Princess Beatrice of Sax-Coburg, which cost him his position as a prince of the royal house of Spain and his career in the Spanish army, have become known.

King Alfonso, instead of refusing his consent to the marriage, as was reported by Madrid dispatches, favored and actually advised the prince to marry her secretly, gave him leave of absence for that purpose, and personally intervened by telegraph with the Bamberg ecclesiastical authorities, in whose diocese the marriage took place, to procure a dispensation for it.

This story was obtained from the prince's own lips by friends a few days ago in Munich, where the couple are spending their honeymoon, and when it is known in Europe it is likely to create a greater sensation than did the wedding and the prince's disgrace.

Prince Alfonso and Princess Beatrice first met on the occasion of King Alfonso's marriage to Princess Eda of Battenberg, in 1906. The prince then was only 20 years old and fell desperately in love with the princess, and proposed marriage; but Beatrice refused him in most decided fashion, even declining him permission to correspond with her. Shortly after this, the prince entered the military school at Toledo, and subsequently, in 1907, the couple met again at San Sebastian.

No Obstacle, They Said.
Both the queen and the queen's mother, knowing of the prince's infatuation, espoused his cause and sought to induce Beatrice to relent. The princess, however, declared that she never would change her religion, but finally, when she said she had no objection to rearing her children as Catholics, the queen mother relented.

"Then there is not the slightest obstacle to the union. I always said that if I had had a second son he should have married a Protestant," she added that she herself had Protestant ancestors.

Later, at La Garnia, King Alfonso formally asked the hand of Princess Beatrice for his cousin, and when Beatrice on that occasion raised the question of religion, his majesty said: "I give you my word of honor there will not be the slightest difficulty." The prince then again proposed and was accepted, and the couple, who had not yet apprised Beatrice's mother, the Duchess of Sax-Coburg and Gotha, with difficulty prevented King Alfonso from officially announcing the engagement.

Veto Enraged King.
When he returned to Madrid, King

Paul's Second Missionary Journey. Athens, Acts xvii:16-34.

Golden Text.—God is a Spirit; and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth, John iv:24.

Verses 16.—Can any true man, at this time, see the folly and sin which thousands so eagerly follow, without his spirit being stirred?

Verses 17.—Notwithstanding that we all, necessarily, have trades and callings to pursue, should, or should not, our chief concern be the tremendous issues involved in spiritual truth, and why? (This question must be answered in writing by members of the club.)

Verses 18-21.—The Epicureans and the Stoics had a contrary philosophy of life, state briefly what they each taught?

Which brings the more lasting happiness, and develops the nobler character, a life devoted to the pleasures of sense, or a life devoted to service for others, and to self denial?

What as a matter of fact, is the substance of what Paul taught?

Should we lend a respectful ear to all new theories of life, and eternity, or reject them without examination?

Verses 22.—Which is the better man, an active skeptic, or an indifferent and thoughtless Christian?

Which is preferable to be ever speculating about God, or to have no thought concerning him?

Is belief in and a longing for God, peculiar to Christianity?

May a heathen who has never come into touch with Christianity, find out, and know, the true God?

What then is the advantage for a true hearted heathen, coming into contact with Christianity?

Verses 23.—Can one man who knows God, be the means of imparting that knowledge to another who desires to know him?

Verses 24.—How do we know that

Alfonso asked Premier Maura what he thought of the marriage, and the premier replied that the marriage of an infant of Spain to a Protestant could not take place on account of the difficulties it would cause the government. King Alfonso was furious.

Princess Beatrice, because of her friendship for Queen Victoria, said she would give up the prince, and King Alfonso summoned the prince to Madrid, and asked what it was his intention to do in the matter. The prince replied that he had given his word to make Beatrice his wife, and, besides, his personal feelings would not permit him to retire from the proposed union, and that he intended to marry the princess regardless of consequences.

King Alfonso warmly congratulated the prince on his attitude, saying that his reply was just what he expected, that it was worthy of a Bourbon, and even is the constitution prevented him giving official consent to the marriage without the approval of his ministers he, as Alfonso of Bourbon, would do everything in his power for the couple.

Princess Beatrice then departed from Madrid and Prince Alfonso, upon the advice of the king, went to see Pope Pius, and asked for a dispensation for a mixed marriage. The Spanish government meantime, warned the Vatican of the proposed union and the dispensation neither was granted nor actually refused. After his the couple waited patiently, considering themselves affianced, as also did King Alfonso, who visited Princess Beatrice at Munich last summer.

Urged a Secret Marriage.
When the prince graduated from the military school at Toledo July 12 he immediately volunteered to go to the front, as the war in Morocco had broken out. King Alfonso granted the prince a three days' leave of absence before being to Melilla, and urged him secretly to marry Princess Beatrice, declaring that he would wire the Bishop of Bamberg to grant a dispensation.

Prince Alfonso arrived in Coburg July 15 and the civil marriage took place that morning. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the priest at Coburg received a telegraphic dispensation from the bishop of Bamberg and at 3:50 p. m. the Catholic ceremony was performed. It was not intended that the news of the marriage should be made public, but it was printed in Spain and the royal decree of the degradation of Prince Alfonso followed.

The prince, in concluding his story to his friends, said:

"Maura, the head of the clerical party in Spain, and because he holds a majority in parliament, forced the king to kick his own cousin out of the country and the army to strip him of title and honors for the crime of marrying a Protestant who is a niece of King Edward and a first cousin of the emperors of Germany and Russia."

Eulalie in Grief.
The prince has again wired King Alfonso, asking to be allowed to go to the front. The Infanta Eulalie, the prince's mother, who is here, is almost prostrated over the ruin of her son's career, as she knew that both the Spanish and British royal families were in perfect sympathy with the marriage.

Kind-hearted Maiden (fishing for a stray penny in her purse)—I suppose you poor blind people feel your misfortunes keenly.

Blind Mendicant—Yes, indeed. The Lord only knows how I miss the pleasure of being able to look into the beautiful faces of the handsome and lovely young ladies who are kind enough to donate—

Kind-hearted Maiden (fishing out a shilling)—Here, poor fellow, take this. I'm sure you are deserving—Scraps.

To Owners of Colored TENEMENT PROPERTY!

For eight years my one "Specialty" has been "MAKING COLORED PROPERTY PAY." The success I have attained in this particular line is attested by the large number of well satisfied clients I have. Is it not reasonable to suppose that a colored man knowing the needs and peculiarities of his own people can get the best results from them? If you lived in San Francisco and owned a Chinese tenement, would you not employ a Chinese Agent? Should not the same logical reasoning obtain in this instance?

My business is the "Colored end of it," and I am prepared to handle anything in the real estate line anywhere in the Tidewater section of Virginia pertaining to my people.
